

Sean D. Housen Sr. pledged at Northern Illinois University Beta Nu Chapter in 1991 and is a current and an active member of Gamma Gamma Omega Chapter in Los Angeles California. Sean has served in several roles under three different Administrations consistently, which includes Regional Polaris, (Region of the year recipient in 2009), Director of Regional Affairs, and is now the current Chief of Strategic Affairs. As a natural matriculation within our great organization, Sean is now running for International Grand Vice Polaris (IGVP).

Providing continuity, Brand Awareness, training, and actual value for our members will be Sean's primary focus during his four years as Grand Vice Polaris. Sean has had the opportunity to gain hands-on experiences from many of our organization's great leaders at the Regional and National levels; making him a primary IGVP candidate. Sean's expertise by profession include his current role as a regional manager for one of the top US-based company, a current Doctor of Business of Administration student, honorable discharged Veteran following actively serving ten years in the U.S. Military and serving on the Board of Sunset Lodge #26 in Long Beach California.

Possessing an ability of affirmation is the foundation that Sean aims to utilize in his leadership once elected as Grand Vice Polaris. Sean intends to create collaboration with the members to better assist with building our organization's real brand for those on the outside.

His vision includes helping with building a dynamic team of directors that are trained in running their departments and capable of providing influence for our members towards seeing the value of the local, regional and national levels participation. Training, brand awareness, and being mindful of our fraternity's values is Sean's principal focus that he believes will move our organization to excellence and in the direction of superiority for all the world to see.
